Western Colorado Historic Hot Springs Loop Pairs Adventures with Rejuvenating Soaking Spots

Thermal hot springs flow abundantly throughout the Colorado Rocky Mountains. Soaking in natural mineral water is a time-honored tradition to enhance wellness. One thing is for sure: relaxation is the ultimate goal.

Five premier hot springs destinations in the western part of Colorado have formed the 720-mile Colorado Historic Hot Springs Loop, which showcases some of the most popular hot springs attractions in the country. There is so much variety: from intimate private baths to the world's largest mineral hot springs pool. Each of the facilities offers unique features like vapor caves, hot pots, terraced pools, enormous travertine formations and fun-filled aquatic centers.
